Alumni Board Completes Fourth Summer Session

The Alumni Board of Directors-Chapter Presidents' 1965 Summer Session was a combination of fun and business and one of the most successful alumni sessions ever held on the Rensselaer campus.

The idea for a summer meeting was initiated and put into practice four years ago and has proven to be a convenient time to hold such a meeting. The members of the board and Chapter Presidents returned to their alma mater, brought their families and spent a weekend of business and pleasure.

Since its inception these summer meetings have provided some of the best ideas and policies adopted by the Alumni Association.

The Association is now working under a new constitution which better enables them to carry out more programs for the betterment of Saint Joseph's. The organization provided for in the constitution facilitates a more disciplined system of carrying out various projects. Under the new organization, the president of the alumni association heads the group, with the past president serving in an advisory capacity. The new president is Joseph Moore, a 1950 graduate who resides in East St. Louis, Ill. The past president whom Moore succeeded July 10 is Jack McCann, a 1951 graduate who lives in Indianapolis.

The major reason for a more disciplined approach to various projects, is the formation of four functioning committees. These committees make it possible for one of them to undertake a particular project without running the risk of duplicating the work being done by another arm of the Alumni Association.

Invitation

It is one of the special privileges of the Alumni Director and the Senior Class President to extend an invitation to you to return for the 1965 Homecoming at our Alma Mater. This year, a most enjoyable and convenient schedule of events is planned for our returning alumni. In short, the weekend has been planned by alumni and seniors for you, and we hope you will not miss it.

Father White Named Aid To President

Father Paul R. White, C.P.P.S., Chairman of the Department of Economics at Saint Joseph's College, has been named Executive Assistant to the President.

It is the same position that Father Charles H. Banet, C.P.P.S., now President of Saint Joseph's, held from September of 1964 until he succeeded Father Raphael H. Gross, C.P.P.S., last June 7.

As Executive Assistant to the President, Father White will assume the duties of Father Banet when the latter is off campus. The position is roughly equal to the former post of college vice-president.

Father Banet nominated Father White for the Executive Assistant position and his appointment became official after it was approved by Saint Joseph's Board of Control. The President of the Board of Control is Father John E. Byrne, C.P.P.S., who also is Provincial of the Cincinnati Province of the Society of the Precious Blood.

Father White first came to Saint Joseph's as a student in 1945. A native of Glandorf, Ohio, he received his Bachelor of Arts degree in philosophy from Saint Joseph's in 1954 and a master's degree in economics from the Catholic University of America in 1956.

He served as Business Manager of Saint Joseph's from 1956-58 and was named Chairman of the Department of Economics in 1964.

Two Former St. Joe College Staff Priests Die During Past Summer

Two priests of the Society of the Precious Blood, both former members of St. Joseph's College Staff, passed away during the past summer.

Dead are — Father Charles Davitt, C.P.P.S., former Director of St. Joseph's Alumni Association and Publications Director, and Father John Baechle, C.P.P.S., former biology professor at the college.

Father Davitt held the position of Alumni Director for five years. He held the post from 1947 until 1952. A native of Titusville, Pa., he was born in 1902.

He entered the Society of the Precious Blood at Carthage, O. on Feb. 7, 1923, where he studied philosophy. He taught and preached at the St. Charles Preparatory Seminary from 1924 until 1925. He was at St. Joseph's from 1925 through 1928, and was ordained on May 5, 1932.

After five years as alumni director at Saint Joseph's Fr. Davitt moved to Holy Cross Institute and Hospital at Merrill, Wis., from 1952-58. From 1958-64 he was chaplain for the Sisters Adorers of the Precious Blood at Wichita, Kan.

Father Baechle was a professor of biology at Saint Joseph's from 1939 to 1954. He was ordained on May 10, 1936.

He first came to Saint Joseph's in July, 1925. He graduated magna cum laude from Saint Joseph's in June of 1930.

During the next six years Father Baechle studied philosophy and theology at St. Charles Seminary, Carthage, before moving on to the Catholic University of America from 1936-39 where he received a Master of Science degree in biology.

He taught at St. Joseph's from September 1939 until his departure in 1954.

Nationally famous for his bird portraits, Father Baechle was included in the May, 1948 supplement to "Who's Who in America" and also "Who's Who in the Midwest" and "Who Knows — And What."

Hugh McAvoy New Student Center Director

"I hope to make Halleck Center what it should be — the center of student activity at Saint Joseph's," says Hugh McAvoy, '54, who assumed duties August 1 as Director of Halleck Center.

"Take a look at the wording on the Center near its main entrance," he adds. "It says Halleck Student Union Center. The name alone reveals the central meaning and purpose of the building — a congregating area for students where they can recreate and enjoy their leisure time.

Hugh first came to Saint Joseph's as a student in January of 1949. He graduated in June of 1954 and holds the distinction of being the only student to be elected twice as President of the Student Council. He served in that capacity in 1952-53 and again in 1953-54.

Following his graduation, Hugh stayed at Saint Joseph's to serve as Director of the Alumni Association. During his three years as Alumni Director (June, 1954- June, 1957), he inaugurated the College Placement Office and also assisted the Publications Department as

Dr. Frank Jones Joins Trustees

Dr. Frank William Jones has been added to Saint Joseph's Lay Board of Trustees, it was announced recently.

Dr. Jones is currently on the staff of Presbyterian - St. Luke's Hospital with the rank of Associate Attending Physician. He also is Clinical Assistant Professor of Medicine at the University of Illinois Medical School. His office is in Chicago and he is a member of the Board of Internal Medicine.

A 52-year-old native of Milwaukee, Wis., he and his family moved to Oconomowoc, Wis., when he was seven. He graduated from Harvard College in 1935 and then spent the next four years at Northwestern Medical School.

Dr. and Mrs. Jones now reside in St. Charles, Ill., and have five children.

Director of Sports Information.

Hugh moved on to Loyola University of Chicago where he worked as Director of Placement from June of 1957 until September of 1959.

He left Loyola to accept a position with the Montgomery-Ward Co. as mail order Personnel Director of the New York and New England Catalogue Division.

Hugh is a member of the Saint Joseph's College Alumni Board of Directors and is a Fellow of the College.

Alumni Counselors Have Seminar

The Alumni Association of Saint Joseph's College moved to enlarge its alumni counselor program by inviting graduates of the college to attend an alumni seminar on admissions September 11.

Working within the area of student recruitment, the alumni counselor is a graduate who desires to attach himself more closely to the college by serving as an intermediary between his alma mater and the high schools in his area.

When high schools throughout the country try to place their graduates into colleges, the alumni counselor becomes a part of the office of admissions staff "off campus."

At present, 17 alumni are serving as high school counselors in Saint Joseph's program.

The purpose of the Sept. 11 seminar was to update the counselors on current admission statistics and requirements.

Mr. Kilmer III

Mr. Richard Kilmer, long-time Saint Joseph's College history professor and former counselor of many recent graduates, is presently in Chicago's Little Company of Mary Hospital with an extremely serious illness. Mahoney Wins Military Award

Greg Mahoney, '60, has been awarded the Air Force Commendation Medal for his role in bringing the Air Force story to the civilian and military public.

Airman First Class Mahoney was presented the medal by Major General Marvin L. McNickle, commander of the Ninth Air Force, in ceremonies at Shaw Air Force Base, S.C., where the St. Joe graduate completed his active military service on June 11.

Serving as information specialist for Tactical Air Command's Ninth Air Force since August, 1961, Mahoney was cited for his "meritorious service in researching, writing and compiling countless feature stories, news releases and information material for local and national press on all phases of tactical airpower."

A native of Oak Park, Ill., Mahoney holds a B.A. in English-Journalism from St. Joe. He was co-editor of STUFF in 1959-60, was named to "Who's Who Among Students in U.S. Colleges and Universities" and is a member of Delta Epsilon Sigma.

He is married to the former Bonnie Brown of Oak Park and has a 2-year-old son, Terry. Following his June 11 release, Mahoney returned to Chicago to pick up a career in community journalism he abandoned for the Air Force information program four years ago.

We Hear From . . .

Dear Jerry,

Just a bit of information to let you know what a "swingin' puma" is doing. Having received my MME at Indiana University, I have now completed a year's teaching instrumental music at Bainbridge-Guilford Central. Our orchestras were a great success and so was my venture into "Public Relations," since my vocation has always been the field of human error. I have been appointed Public Relations Director for the school system.

My lovely wife Carol (a pumaette) and I now have a daughter, Bridget, who is at this time already 11 months old. Keep up the image.

Paul Germek '63, 50 Pearl Street, Bainbridge, New York

Dear Jerry,

Just want to bring you up to date on the Bill Yanan family. We've added another girl, Therese Eileen, bringing our total to three girls and one boy . . . It was good to see you, Jerry, at the Communion Breakfast.

Mary Yanan (Mrs. Wm. '56), 13021 Cannes Dr., Creve Court, Mo.

Dear Jerry,

Thought I'd better let you know what's going on since we've moved to Phoenix. We love it here . . . no finer weather anywhere. At present, I'm with Motorola Inc. out here as an accounting supervisor in their financial planning department.

You might be interested to know that we have a fine 12-month old son and another baby due in January.

If you get out this way on your travels, be certain to stop in for a meal — if you bring the wine, of course.

Dennis K. Knapp, 2406 W. Claremont, Phoenix, Arizona 85015

The column "We Hear From" in the August issue of "Contact", I found most interesting because of the letters concerning the baseball team of many decades ago. When the May issue arrived, I was very ill, so I missed the May issue. I would like very much to receive a copy of it. I remember almost all of the players as I was at St. Joe when those boys were there. I was co-proprietor of the candy store in my next-to-last year with Jimmy Stewart and in my final year my partner was Paul (Pete) Fogarty, now deceased.

I graduated from the six year Classical course in 1917 and was honored with being the President of the class.

On September 30th, I will be 74 years old. I am now enjoying good health again, keep busy every day in my retirement six years ago after 42 years at Goodyear here in Akron.

Leo T. Beck, 121 Marvin Avenue, Akron, Ohio 44302

My thoughts are on and with St. Joe, Mr. Gladu — since I'm writing out a check for Michael Patrick Moriarity's junior year!

An item of interest, to me at least, and possibly to some of my old cronies, priest and lay alike, came up this week. I thought I'd pass it along for Contact or Waste Basket.

In 1938, I won both 1st and 2nd place in the Alumni Essay contest. That fall I moved on to Carthage, finished Philosophy in '40, then dropped out of the seminary for family reasons — support of my mother.

The second prize, at that time, was of prime interest — those were tail-end depression days and second prize was $15.00, as I remember.

The gold medal I won came home with me. I married in 1944. Soon thereafter, transferring my effects from my mother's home to our apartment, the gold medal was among the souvenirs. Between 1944 and 1951, we moved eight times. The medal we could never find for years. Now and then we'd think of it — casually hunt — forget it.

I'm Sales Manager of the Weber Dental Mfg. Co. here in Canton. In twenty years of traveling, I've put about 3/4 million air miles behind me. Since January I have been home-ized and hospital-ized with four surgeries, so I've had time for things around the house!

I'm a member of the Play Boy Club — for business reasons, of course, since I have my own bunny hutch here in Canton! Last week my key turned up missing. A lost Play Boy key could cost lots of money so I went on a very assiduous search. As it turned out, Michael Patrick had found it under the car seat and forgot to tell us.

Lo and behold in one of my wife's old jewelry boxes, what do I find but my gold medal award of '38. It was a delight to show it to my youngsters after twenty-seven years!

The moral — join the Play Boy Club. Lose the key. Hunt the key. In the process you will find gold medals — un-turned-up in more than a quarter century.

Such logic would have driven good old Fr. Sylvester Hartmann mad (R.I.P.)! Maybe that's why I didn't get my degree from St. Joe until June '63. I studied 62-63 year, took an oral comprehensive, and got that prized piece of paper. That fall our Mike entered St. Joe. Had to get the "old man" out so number one son could get in!

Alumni Gathering

TIME OUT — Taking a break from official proceedings are this group of alumni board members, chapter presidents, wives and children who were present for the Fourth Annual Board - Chapter President's Summer Session. The session was a combination of fun and business and proved to be highly successful in both of these endeavors. Since the inception of these summer sessions, four years ago, the meetings have provided many valuable ideas and policies for the Alumni Association.

Reunion Held For Class Of '55

HAPPY GATHERING — A portion of the class of 1955 reminisces during Saturday dinner at the class's two-day reunion, July 31 - August 1. In the background are Fr. William Eilerman, C.P.P.S., Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sayers, Father Clement Kuhns, C.P.P.S., Mr. and Mrs. Chet Pilat, Mr. and Mrs. John Quinn and Father Edwin Kaiser, C.P.P.S., In the foreground are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kelly, Mrs. John Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Stricklin, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schuessler and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Zid.

S.J.C. Forges Ahead Under Fellows Plan

Whoever it was that once said "Behind every successful man there stands a woman," probably didn't realize how much debate and even argument the comment would create.

And whoever it was that first said "Behind every successful college stands a loyal group of trustees, faculty, staff, alumni and friends," probably didn't realize how often the statement would be proved anew by history.

3 Alumni Say Vows

Three SJC Alumni, Michael J. Winkowski, C.P.P.S., '64, Richard C. Gitzinger, C.P.P.S., '64, and Joseph L. Botton, C.P.P.S., '62, made their religious profession in the Society of the Precious Blood August 15 in the Chapel of the Assumption, St. Charles Seminary, Carthage, Ohio. The Very Rev. Reverend John E. Byrne, provincial of the Cincinnati Province of the Society, officiated.

Winkowski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clem M. Winkowski, 801 W. LaSalle Avenue, South Bend, Indiana, entered St. Joe in September of 1960 and, after studying for two years as an accounting major, entered Xavier Hall to begin his studies for the Priesthood.

Gitzinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Gitzinger, 3201 Sunnycrest Lane, Dayton, Ohio, received the bachelor of arts degree in mathematics from St. Joe in January of 1964.

Botton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Botton, 3520 W. 62nd Place, Chicago, Illinois, received the bachelor of arts degree in English - journalism from SJC in 1962.

Their profession marks the end of a one-year training period in the elements of religious life taken at St. Mary's Novitiate, Burkettsville, Ohio. After a two-week vacation they went to St. Charles Seminary, Carthage, Ohio, to pursue their philosophical and theological studies.

Saint Joseph's College, for one, can bear witness to the truth of the comment. Since 1953, the College has grown from 12 buildings to 20, from a budget of a few hundred thousand to more than two million, from a faculty of 51 to 88, from a student body of 500 to 1200, and from one campus to two campuses.

Behind this rapid development has been the steady support of trustees, faculty, staff, alumni, friends — and since the spring of 1962, a growing list of supporters who are members of the College's unique Fellows Program.

Although similar programs have since been adopted by other private schools, Saint Joseph's was one of the first to adopt a plan with this approach. The Fellows Program was born as part of the College's 75th anniversary Diamond Jubilee fund drive, but it is in reality a long-range plan.

"Several years ago, when I was in Oxford and Cambridge," Father Gross explains, "I investigated this term 'Fellow of the College,' since it originated there. I also went to the very large Oxford Dictionary of the English Language, the one that is in 13 immense volumes, each volume almost as large as our own Webster's Dictionary.

"The dictionary pointed out that the first and primary meaning of the term 'fellow' is, 'One who lays down money in a joint undertaking with others.' Hence, a partner, a peer, an associate. And reading farther down in the next column I found that a 'fellow' originally in medieval times at Oxford and Cambridge, and even today in British universities, meant an incorporated member of a college or of a collegiate foundation."

Although a "fellow" in Medieval Oxford was a member of the governing board, Father Gross explains, he was more than just that. He also was a counselor, patron and benefactor of the college through his support of college programs manifested by gifts of land, buildings and money.

Today's Fellow of Saint Joseph's bears a close similarity to the college fellow of medieval times. He sees beyond the horizons of his daily routine and particular profession to a personal identification with Saint Joseph's, its prestige and its mission.

His mission, Father Gross says, is threefold. First, he makes the fruits of his experience available to the Board of Trustees and Administration of the college.

Second, he represents Saint Joseph's in his profession and seeks to interest others in the college and the cause of higher education.

Lastly, he is identified with the prestige of the college and concerned with its development in the field of higher education and its acceptance in the public mind.

The minimum membership donation in joining the Fellow Program is $1,000, payable over a two or three-year installment plan, by whatever method is most convenient from a tax standpoint. Alumni can make the donation over a five-year period.

Since Saint Joseph's Fellows Program is modeled after the medieval meaning of "fellow," the act of joining the Program is over-ridden by the vision of the Fellow.

"I believe that a Fellow of Saint Joseph's College is a person who looks beyond his own little world, who looks beyond even the program of Saint Joseph's, to a vital concern with the whole critical problem of higher education in America today," Father Gross explains.

"He is one who realizes that among all the crucial things facing America, few are as great as this problem of the future of higher education. Within the next ten years we must provide as many facilities, as many qualified college faculty members, as it took us 250 years to do previously. This is an immense challenge."

The true meaning of fellowship to Saint Joseph's College is both deep and dignified. The meaning, derived from medieval times, is manifested in a personal, concrete manner.

Eugene S. Pulliam Sr., publisher of the Indianapolis Star and the Indianapolis News, wrote in a 1962 editorial: "Those honored by introduction into the circle of Saint Joseph's Fellows have made personal, not corporative, sacrifices.

Class Officers Are Elected

Next year's senior class will be led by president John O'Donnell of Chesterton, Ind.; James Metzinger of Lafayette was named vice-president; secretary will be Thomas Callum of Chicago, Ill., and treasurer will be James Robbins of Chicago.

The class of 1967 named Mike Lunkes of Chicago president; Tom Eiter of Des Plaines, Ill., vice-president; Dennis Duncan of Delaware, Ohio; secretary; and Paul Broadway of Chicago, treasurer.

Heading the class of 1968 will be president Jim Neal of Princeton, Ind. Vice-president will be Jack Kosmala of Calumet City, Ind.; secretary will be Mike Skube of Bradley, Ill., and treasurer will be Larry Wedryk of Chicago.

Their contributions, moreover, have been more than that of laying down money; they have included the dispensation of wise counsel, fulfillment of tedious chores, and the use of their good names in the college's programs."

In explaining the central concept of fellowship, Pulliam hit the proverbial nail on the head in explaining that corporative gifts, though necessary to the healthy survival of private colleges, are also impersonal.

The greatest enrichment, he said, is to be found in a wide band of fellowship involving personal gifts of money, property, time and talent. When it comes to paying the bills, these personal gifts usually cannot match corporative gifts. But when it comes to the intangible values which are at the heart of education, they are indispensable.

Any person is eligible to become a Fellow of Saint Joseph's, and thereby receive the highest non-academic honor that can be bestowed by any college or professional society. The title of "fellow" is a mark of recognition of outstanding and privileged membership in professional and academic associations. It is an honor granted only to persons who have made significant contributions to their profession, to the advancement of education, to the American way of life.

Under Saint Joseph's Trustees program, a Fellow is created when his name is submitted to the Board of Trustees and when he accepts the Board's nomination to fellowship.

Since 1962, the college has sponsored an annual Fellows convocation-dinner at which those Fellows are formally inducted who have accepted nominations since the previous year's convocation-dinner. The induction ceremony consists of the conferral of a Certificate of Fellowship and a special lapel rosette, done in the school colors of cardinal and purple.

Fellowship also confers upon the Fellow the right to take active part in the college's academic processions, convocations and ceremonies. In academic processions, he is privileged to wear the cap and gown, together with a special Fellows tassel on the cap, in case he is not a graduate of the college.

Possibly the most astonishing aspect concerning Saint Joseph's Fellows Program has been its growth. Within two years of its inauguration membership had risen to 275 and current enrollment stands at approximately 350, with 127 of this number being alumni of the College.

It quickly became evident that a program growing so rapidly would require the attention of a full-time director. Thus, when Father Gross stepped down as Saint Joseph's President last June, he assumed duties as Director of the Fellows Program.

"While my duties as director are many and varied," Father Gross says, "my central role is to work toward expanding the program, to keep the present Fellows informed of college developments and to attempt to personally visit all the Fellows at least once a year to seek out their ideas and counsel."

Continued growth of the Fellows Program, Father Gross points out, depends on many more people than himself. "In addition to the work and interest of the Trustees and Administrators of Saint Joseph's, each Fellow is encouraged to seek out associates who might be interested in joining the program," he adds.

In explaining the rationale behind the Fellows Program, he points to the Fellows' creed, a list of six beliefs that lie at the core of the program.

"One of the beliefs is grounded in the very nature of a private college and its dependence upon voluntary support," Father Gross says. "The state has the right and duty to establish schools for its citizens and to encourage private schools. This is the American way of education — a dual system of public, tax-supported schools and private, voluntarily supported schools — the two giving a rich, multiverse educational system."

Geology Department Given New Vehicle

A $2500 terra-scout has been given to the Saint Joseph's College Department of Geology by the Soiltest Co. Inc., of Evanston, Illinois.

Mr. Theodore Van Zelst, president of Soiltest, Inc., of Evanston informed Saint Joseph's of the donation of the terra-scout, a portable refraction seismograph. The machine was shipped to Saint Joseph's from a factory in Baraboo, Wisconsin.

The terra-scout is used to give an indication of subsurface layers of soil or rock. It can also determine if the rock or bedrock is of solid or fractured type. With the terra-scout, the type, hardness and depth of various subsurface materials can be determined.

Soiltest Inc. has been a generous equipment donor to the Department of Geology. The donation of the terra-scout brings to more than $7500 the value of equipment they have donated to Saint Joseph's during the past four years.

Puma Football Squad Is Looking Toward Future

The look is to the future on the Pumaville sports scene where Saint Joe fans are awaiting the debut of the 1965 football squad and its new head coach, Jim Arneberg.

The target date is Sept. 25, when Arneberg's forces tackle DePauw University at Rensselaer in the season opener. The Pumas will be out to snap a ten-game losing string, longest in the school's history.

The four committees are headed by vice-presidents. First is the Committee on Alumni Unification, presided over by First Vice-President Robert Conley, Jr., of Rensselaer, a 1941 graduate.

The Committee on Financial Support is headed by Vice-President Charles Vietzen, a 1957 graduate from Oak Park, Ill. Robert Ryan of Centerville, Ohio, a 1951 graduate, is vice-president of the Committee on Academic Encouragement. The Committee on Public Relations is headed by George Byrwalter of Dolton, Ill., a 1950 graduate.

Outside this core of alumni organization, there are functioning chapters in Chicago, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Dayton, Fort Wayne, Louisville, Detroit, J.O.E. (Jasper, Owensboro, Evansville), and a five-county chapter comprised of Jasper and surrounding counties.

During the business sessions, a wide variety of proposals and ideas were discussed. Several areas were pointed out in which initial or re-organized programs were desirable. These included alumni clubs, financial support in the form of wills and bequests, foundations, alumni fund raising, the Fellows Program, communications and alumni events. The need of developing new clubs and reorganizing and strengthening existing clubs was stressed. It was felt that through alumni chapters, a unified organization of alumni can be formed, who individually and collectively will carry out the association's activities at the local level.

Ideas for new and unique programs and techniques to provide increasing and continuing financial support for the college were urged and the Alumni Board of Directors was called upon to assume greater leadership in the Fellows Program.

tory. They also will be seeking their first opening-game victory since 1954 when coach Bob Jauron's team turned the trick with a 35-7 win over Earlham College.

Arneberg is expected to start a year of rebuilding around a core of 16 returning lettermen and a crop of sophomores who led the 1964 freshman team to two wins in three games. The new coach will comb his sophomores and the remnants of the 1964 varsity in seeking replacements for nine graduated lettermen.

A major project confronting Arneberg is the solution to the difficulty which has plagued Saint Joseph's teams for the past six years: lack of depth. If the 1965 Pumas are to display effective bench strength, the sophomores must provide most of the material. The necessity of a solid bench is underlined by the presence of another rugged eight-game schedule, featuring the six formidable Indiana Collegiate Conference foes and Findlay and Defiance colleges of Ohio.

"Improvement" is the key to Arneberg's program, and during spring drills the former Little All-American guard at Loras College worked to polish the Pumas' offensive attack and strengthen the defense. Particular emphasis was placed on the passing attack, both in terms of passer-receiver combinations and pass blocking.

The first test of the Pumas' spring progress was impressive. Led by the passing of quarterback Duffy Hagist, the running of full-back Bill Schilling, and rugged line play both on offense and defense, the varsity captured a 13-2 win over the alumni May 15 in the annual spring game.

Except for a few bright spots, the spring sports season was less than encouraging. The baseball squad posted a 12-7 mark to lead the spring won-loss records. The golf team, 10-2 in 1964, slumped to a 2-10-1 record; the tennis club was 1-9; the trackmen were 1-3 in dual meets and the freshman baseballers finished 1-5.

Highlights of the baseball season came at the start and near the end of the campaign. Coach Don-Merki's men opened the season with a doubleheader sweep of Cincinnati and near the close of the schedule upset NAIA finalist Anderson, 3-1. On the final day of the season, the Pumas also upset Ball State and ace hurler Bill Hajej, 3-2.

Another bright spot in the spring sports scene was trackman Larry Lennon, who capped a brilliant college athletic career by sweeping honors in the 440-yard dash at the ICC meet in Muncie.

Two Liturgical Music Teachers Named Saint Joseph's Fellows

Two members of the faculty of Saint Joseph's Summer School of Liturgical Music have been named Fellows.

They are Father Paul Arbogast, of the Basilica of the Assumption, Covington, Ky., and Father Eugene Lindusky, O.S.C., head of the music departments at Crosier Seminary in Onamia, Minn.

According to Father Lawrence Heiman, C.P.P.S., Chairman of the Department of Music at Saint Joseph's and Director of the Summer School of Liturgical Music, Fathers Arbogast and Lindusky were honored at a banquet held July 25 in Halleck Center to cite friends of the college who had assisted the Sister Josephus Organ Fund, a drive initiated for the construction of a baroque organ by Saint Joseph's Department of Music.

struction of a baroque organ by Saint Joseph's Department of Music.

Father Heiman, who also is Chairman of the Liturgical Department of the National Catholic Music Educators Association, says the fund was named after Sister Mary Josephus, O.S.F., of Omaha, Neb., a 1963 graduate of the Summer School of Liturgical Music. Sister Josephus is a School Sister of St. Francis, formerly of Milwaukee, Wis.

"When she graduated from Saint Joseph's," recounts Father Heiman, "her uncle, John Helbach of Palatine, Ill., wanted to do something in her honor so he inaugurated the organ fund in her name."

Other guests of honor at the banquet were Saint Joseph's Fellows Mr. Arthur McCaw of Lafayette Park and their wives. Mr. and Mrs. McCaw are parents of Lynn McCaw, an organ major at Saint Joseph's who is due to graduate next January.

Mrs. Funk is a music major at Saint Joseph's. A mass which she recently composed has been accepted for publication by the World Library of Sacred Music at Cincinnati.

Father Heiman says additional support for the Sister Josephus Organ Fund is being derived from liturgical music publications combined on by the students and faculty of the Summer School of Liturgical Music.

During the 1964 summer session, the students and faculty combined efforts to publish two major works: 1. Complete English Propers for the High Mass for All Sundays and Principal Feasts (edited by Father Arbogast), and 2. Ten Renaissance Notets in English (compiled and edited by Father Lindusky).

St. Joseph Students Win Scholarships

Two Saint Joseph's students have been named recipients of the $500 Central Newspapers Foundation scholarships annually awarded to a junior and senior who would otherwise find it difficult to attend college.

This year's winners are senior Jean Hemery and junior Marvin Gudorf.

The Central Newspapers Foundation was established by Eugene Pulliam, Sr., the owner and publisher of the Indianapolis News and Indianapolis Star.

Hemery, a native of Des Plaines, Ill., is an accounting major. He is a 1962 graduate of Maine West High School in Des Plaines, where he was active in athletics, participating in basketball, baseball and football. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hemery of Des Plaines.

He is married to the former Ann Adams of Egg Harbor, Wis., and currently resides at 120 E. Elm St. in Rensselaer. Mr. and Mrs. Hemery have two children.

Gudorf, originally from Tell City, Ind., is an engineering major. He is a 1963 graduate of Tell City High School where he participated in basketball, baseball, football and track. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gudorf of Tell City.

He is married to the former Mary Ann Jarboe of Derby, Ind., and currently resides at 512½ N. Cullen St. in Rensselaer. Mr. and Mrs. Gudorf have one daughter.

Winners Of Annual Academic Contests At SJC Announced

The winners of the competition for the 1964-65 awards offered by Saint Joseph's College were announced recently.

Winner of the Hanley Science Award was senior Craig G. Bolanos, a biology major from Chicago. The contest was open to all juniors and seniors majoring or minoring in the natural sciences. Bolanos received the first place award of $75.00 for his essay entitled "Agent 002," which dealt with the lymphatic system.

Second prize of $50.00 went to Leonard J. Palicki, a 65 grad majoring in math-physics. Frank Arvia, '65, a biology major, won the third prize of $25.00.

Geraid Buszta won the $100, Mary J. Pursley Creative Writing Award. Buszta is a sophomore political science major from Port Chester, N.Y. His winning short story was "A Eulogy for Rep."

Winner of the Lay Trustees Business Award of $100 and a wood-bronze plaque was Sister M. Kevin (O'Malley), of the Little Company of Mary Hosiptal in San Pierre, Ind.

The winner of the Wall Street Journal Award, who was chosen by the faculty of the Department of Business Administration, was David E. Eckerle. Eckerle is a '65 graduate from Jasper, Indiana.

The winner of the John P. Hruzik Geology Award was Gerald P. O'Connor, 65, a geology major from Chicago. He received a Brunton Compass.

Louis A. Bianchi, '65, won the wood-bronze plaque of the Indiana Association of Certified Public Accountants Award. The contest was open to seniors majoring in account with the winner being chosen by the Accounting Department.

Winners of the second semester

Father Rapp Speech trophies were Paul A. Lechner (first prize), Ronald W. Staudt (second), and W. August Hillenbrand (third).

The Louis F. White Award, which is donated by Saint Joseph's Glee Club, was awarded to Bernard L. Saunders, '65, from Munising, Michigan.

Frank J. Freimuth, '65, a biology major, won the DKL award which was donated by Dr. Eileen W. MacFarlane.

Where's Daddy?

MUST BE AROUND SOMEWHERE — A slightly bored listener searches for his father during proceedings at the Fourth Annual Alumni Board of Directors - Chapter Presidents Summer Session. Around the picnic table are Bob Lenzini of St. Louis, Chuck Vietzen of Oak Park, Joe Moore of East St. Louis, Father Raphael Gross, Bill Elbert of Kentland and Bernie Balas of Gary.
